THE ROCKS
Ages ago,
schools ago,
grades ago,
drawn behind
a tan house on Taggart Street,
we climbed the rocks, walked
corpse-strewn
railroads, slept
under stars of
our small lives.